

The Iowa Network for Adolescent Pregnancy Prevention,
Parenting, and Sexual Health

Champion for Children Award

Nomination Form

Many Iowans are committed to making a better life and a better future for children in this state. Do you know someone with an exceptional record of service for children? This is your chance to give well-earned recognition to such an individual. FutureNet will pay tribute to a true Champion for Children with an award to be presented at our annual conference on September 19, 2007.

The nominee should be a leader who demonstrates caring and commitment to children and adolescents, through advocacy and service in their behalf. The nominee may, for example, be a community leader, a legislator, or a social services or health care professional.

Special consideration will be given to nominees who have worked within or have been advocates for youth in the fields of teen pregnancy prevention, adolescent sexual health or services to pregnant and parenting teens.

Use this form to tell us about your nominee. Nominations should arrive to the FutureNet office by mail, fax or email no later than August 15, 2007.
